How to choose a solar panel protective cover?

There are also hard protective shell systems that can be installed over the top of solar panels. These shells are highly protective for the long term. No matter the reason you install a solar panel protective cover, it is essential you choose the right one. The panel cover should be designed to offer protection for your specific solar panel system.

Do solar panels need a plastic cover?

Clear plastic covers can create a barrier and make cleaning your solar panels easier. Retractable solar panel covers can be helpful when your solar panels are not used for extended periods.

What is a solar panel cover?

Fixture Covers: Fixture covers can shield your solar panels from unfavorable weather. They normally attach to the solar panel frame and are constructed of aluminum or stainless steel. Retractable Covers: When not in use, a retractable solar panel cover can be folded back over the panels.

Do solar panels need a retractable cover?

Retractable solar panel covers can be helpful when your solar panels are not used for extended periods. You should protect your panels during the winter months or prolonged rain. Creating a barrier can prevent damage and prolong the lifespan of your solar panels. It will also stop algae growth.

Should you cover solar panels when not in use?

When not in use, you should cover your panels. Preventing overloads is one of the main advantages of utilizing a solar panel protective cover. Your solar panel system can keep absorbing solar energy even when not used. You might be worried that when not in use, the batteries in your solar panels could overload.
