

Iceland to Kalaallit Nunaat Expedition 2025 Overview Sailing from Iceland to Greenland, this exciting journey will have a team of SOI youth and educators exploring themes of history, culture, climate change and ...

Iceland has opened the world's largest direct carbon capture plant, capable of storing 36 tonnes of CO2 per year in the rocky, volcanic subsoil. In the fight against climate change, Iceland has ...

July 2025 has delivered the warmest day of the summer so far in Iceland, with numerous weather stations across the country reporting record-breaking temperatures. In several locations, the ...

The contribution to sustainable development begins with an awareness process through the calculation of our personal carbon footprint. And schools are the key to initiate change. Schools teach values, habits and ...

The Sundhnúksgígar volcano, located south of Reykjavik, roared to life last night, marking the twelfth eruption in Iceland since 2021. This event has reignited a debate sparked by a recent ...

Currently the sector is five percent of Iceland's GDP, and an ecosystem of innovation. Iceland is seen as a utopia of low-cost renewable energy in a cold and stable climate, minus of course ...

During a visit to the HS Orka plant, briefers emphasised that in response to both the immediate and future impacts of climate change, Iceland has nearly eliminated its reliance on imported ...

Now, a new study adds an additional--and explosive--consequence to the list of changes: melting glaciers are likely to make volcanic eruptions more frequent and severe. According to ...

Nordic countries, in particular, are known for blending progressive social policies with robust environmental action to tackle climate change effectively. Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, ...

Almannavarnadeild (Iceland Civil Defense)/Anadolu via Getty Images Look no further than Iceland, the scientists say, to understand how these geological processes can drastically ...

Iceland, a land of juxtaposition, boasts a climate that is shaped by its unique geography and geothermal characteristics. Often described as a land of fire and ice, this island nation ...

On July 14, 2025, the quiet Icelandic settlement of Hjarðarland, located in the island's southwest region, recorded a scorching 29.5°C, making it one of the hottest days in Iceland's history. ...

Climate change iceland

His writing reflects a deep interest in how climate change shapes our lives and lifestyles--from sustainable travel practices to eco-friendly living environments. Known for his clear, ...

It's the climate summit again. From November 6 to 18 local time, the 27th Conference of the Parties (COP27) of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change was held in ...

Climate change iceland

Web: <https://www.ekusenitours.co.za>