

Companies calling from Mexico about Playa del Sol timeshare

We were called and told by a real estate co., Holiday Property Management, Inc from Ohio, that they had a buyer for our timeshare at Playa del Sol Grand in Nuevo Vallarta, MX that would pay us $25,900 US.

In fact, most of the timeshare companies that sell own any of the units. They simply rent out some of the rooms and call the resort a timeshare when it is a hotel. This is why so many families have problems getting in because hotel rooms are sold to the general public.

I received emails from a legal firm in Baja, Mexico, followed up with an hour long call in which the rep answered every question I could imagine. This firm was selected by a very large Mexican construction firm that now owns all the former Playa del Sol properties.

If you have been the victim of a Mexico timeshare scam, you should file a police report, contact the Mexican authorities and file a complaint with PROFECO along with U.S. authorities at IC3.gov. The Better Business Bureau also uses ScamTracker to help identify scams related to ...

Playa del Sol still schedules only a few units at the Costa Sur location on the south side of Puerto Vallarta, but that facility is now managed by Howard Johnson. Thus, it appears that scheduling time at the Costa Sur location through the Belair member services will not be easy because they are now separate business entities.

In 2022, the FBI Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) received over 600 complaints with losses of approximately $39.6 million from victims contacted by scammers regarding timeshares owned in Mexico.
