What should a solar panel contract include?

Your solar panels' contract should estimate how much energy will be produced and what savings the client can expect. This section of the agreement should clearly outline how the system's performance will be monitored and what guarantees are given. Solar power has many benefits for businesses and commercial properties, such as

Are solar PV installations sold between companies?

However, we are aware that in some instances solar PV installations are sold between companies, especially when companies go out of business. This change in ownership may not be communicated to the homeowner.

What are the different types of solar panel agreements & proposals?

There are different types of solar panel agreements and proposals available. The one you use will depend on a few different factors. These factors include whether you lease or buy solar panels and whether the contract is for a home, business, or even a large development. A power purchase agreement or PPA is similar to a solar lease agreement.

Can a person own a solar PV installation?

While an individual can own the solar PV panels installed at their property, there are instances where the owner of an installation may be different from the owner of the property or site at which the installation is located.

What happens when a solar PV contract ends?

When the contracts come to an end the customer can choose to remove the system, extend the PPA or purchase the energy system. On-site solar PV generation can take the form of either a large-scale rooftop installation on a commercial or industrial (C&I) site, or a ground-mount installation on adjacent land.

What is a solar development agreement?

A solar development agreement is a legally binding contract between parties that outlines the terms and conditions for the development and operation of a solar energy project. Service contracts are an agreement between two parties, usually the home or business owner, and the provider, an installation or maintenance company.
