Energy Cells are tile entities added by Thermal Expansion 5. They store Redstone Flux (RF) and can be picked up with a Crescent Hammer or a pickaxe. The stored RF is not lost when picked up. When the Energy Cell is placed all sides are set to input (blue) except the bottom which is set to output (orange). The Energy Cells's GUI is able to configure redstone response, input and ...

The Energy Laser Relay is a block added by Actually Additions. It will wirelessly transmit Redstone Flux (CF) to another Energy Laser Relay, when connected, within a default distance of 15 blocks. Energy Laser Relays can be connected by right-clicking two pairs with a Laser Wrench. Energy will only flow through the Energy Laser Relay if each one is connected to a source or ...

I'm playing through FTB Continuum and I want to use the energy bees, but I can't seem to get them to work. I've tried RFTools energy relays, glass fibre cables, fluxducts, powercells but none seem to want to accept the energy from the bees. ... Once you get to energy bees, this is the next step in the process. This is less a guide and someone showing off their setup (not us, btw). And then finally, here's a video showing the possibility of how much energy you really can produce from energy bees with the right automated setup.

the network tool shows 2.25kRF/t generated and consumed, but when the autocrafting is going it drains the pitiful reserves of the controllers (16kRF/controller, max power is 304.4kRF) and i can't seem to get any more energy into the system with energy acceptors. i currently have 2 energy acceptors connected to the same glass cable, and the ...

Extra Cells is an addon mod for the popular Applied Energistics mod, created by Leonelf. The mod seeks to supplement Applied Energistics (a complex storage network system that automates crafting processes and much more) in areas where it is still lacking, with a few more useful features, such as fluid storage, considerably larger storage cards, and an uninterrupted power ...

An Energy Storage Upgrade can be used to upgrade a machine's internal power storage. Place one or more energy storage upgrades into the four right-most slots to upgrade a machine. FTB Continuum RF storage? Hello! I'm starting to dig into this modpack, and I'm still in the early game. My current problem is that my coal generator has nowhere to put excess RF. I'm wondering if there's anything like the Batbox from IC2, or something in the vein of energy storage?

The time table I posted was trying to show how much more planning and work went into Servtech before they actually released the pack. We have to remember FTB has been working on this Pack for years now in planning stages if not rough builds. I stop playing FTB Continuum when they switched off my Smelting pick doubling.

Silky Miner Bee filling half a Large Storage Crate in less than an hour, meant I have no ore problems. ... FTB Continuum is definitely worth playing. I have seen lots of questions regarding Power Generating in FTB Coninum, especially in mid game. Therefore I took some time to figure out the best options to create good amounts of RF for the early to midgame. FTB Continuum is an Expert Modpack by FeedTheBeast for Minecraft 1.12.2...

The best way to get ender pearls depends on pack and your point in the tech/resource tree. If you're on a pack with Mystcraft, Thaumcraft, and Extra Utilities I think making random ages until you get a high/flat and/or cave world to raid barrows and shrines for ender-lily seeds is your best bet, particularly since you can accomplish this in the first real ...

It needs a little work, but overall I have enjoyed it a lot. I ran into a couple of broken recipes when I tried to craft Reinforced and Resonant jetpacks (required items disabled in config) and a lot of the later quests don't include any reward which makes them feel unfinished, but the documentation is very well done and the whole thing flows pretty well.
