Is a solar lease a scam?

Solar Lease or PPA Scams While leasing or using a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) for solar panels isn't inherently a scam, these contracts can be challenging to break. Be cautious, as they may lock you into an unwanted monthly payment for a solar array you don't own.

Are solar panels worth the cost?

Solar panels can be worth the cost for some, but not every rooftop is suitable for solar panels. In the northern hemisphere, panels produce the most electricity facing south, although east- and west-facing panels work, too.

What is a solar energy scam?

The scams vary, but here's the gist: someone claiming to be with the government or your utility company promises big savings on your utility bills from solar energy or other home improvements designed to increase energy efficiency. If you agree to the scammer's offer, it could cost you tens of thousands of dollars.

Are free solar panels a scam?

Know that "free" or "no cost" solar panel offers are scams. The federal government does not install solar systems in homes for free. If you're considering whether solar energy is right for you, check out the Department of Energy's guide for homeowners and learn more. Or check out the Department of Treasury's guidance on clean energy.

Are solar business leads a scam?

At best, this is someone generating leads to sell, not actual solar businesses. At worst, they're scammer trying to steal your identity. If you spot a scam, tell the Federal Trade Commission at ReportFraud.ftc.gov.

Are solar panel scams common in Florida and California?

Solar panel scams in Florida and California are quite common, as they are in any region where solar energy is popular and incentives are provided. Scammers take advantage of people's limited knowledge about solar systems, providing misleading information that makes it hard for victims to recognize the scam.
