

New Energy Storage Project Groundbreaking Ceremony

Where is SSE Renewables building a battery energy storage system?

SSE Renewables celebrated construction starting at its 150MW/300MWh battery energy storage system (BESS) at Ferrybridge, West Yorkshire with a groundbreaking ceremony. Delegates from SSE Renewables were joined for the event by principal contractor, OCU Services Ltd, and battery supplier, Sungrow Power UK Ltd on Monday August 14 th.

What is SSE Renewables' second battery storage project?

Ferrybridge is SSE Renewables' second battery storage project under construction, with a 50MW BESS site at Salisbury due to be fully operational before the end of 2023. The business has also received planning consent for battery storage projects at Fiddler's Ferry (150MW) and Monk Fryston (320MW).

How many energy-storage pilot projects are there in 2024?

At the beginning of 2024, the National Energy Administration released a list of 56 new energy-storage pilot projects. About 30 percent of the projects belong to Lithium-ion battery route, others cover fields of compressed air, flow battery, sodium-ion battery, gravity, flywheel, carbon dioxide, lead-carbon battery and liquid air.

Where is a sodium-ion battery energy-storage station located?

On May 11, a sodium-ion battery energy-storage station was put into operation in Nanning, south China's Guangxi Zhuang Autonomous Region, as an initial phase of an energy-storage project. After completion, the project's overall capacity will reach a level of 100 MWh, which can meet the power demand of some 35,000 households every year.

When does an energy-storage system charge?

An energy-storage system charges when wind power or photovoltaic power generates a large volume of electricity or when the power consumption is low, and it discharges otherwise.

Can new energy storage promote green and low-carbon development?

This year's government work report noted the development of new energy storage as one of the measures to promote green and low-carbon development. New energy storage refers to energy-storage technologies other than conventional pump storage. It offers advantages such as a short construction period, flexible layout and fast response.
