Do you need planning permission to install solar panels?

Current rules that require businesses to apply for planning permission if solar panels will generate more than one megawatt of electricity will also be scrapped, meaning organisations will be able to install more solar panels on rooftops without the delay and cost of applying for planning permission.

Can solar panels be installed without a planning system?

Changes to permitted development rights rules will mean more homeowners and businesses will be able to install solar panels on their roofs without going through the planning system. Currently those who have to go through the planning system are having to wait over eight weeks and face extra costs.

Will new solar homes get a payment from suppliers?

New solar homes and businesses creating and exporting electricity to the grid will be guaranteed a payment from suppliers under new laws to be introduced by the government this week (Monday 10 June).

Do solar panels comply with building regulations?

Your solar panel system must comply with building regulations in terms of structural integrity, electrical safety and fire safety. These regulations may vary depending on the size and type of the installation. It's advisable to work with accredited installers who are familiar with these requirements.

Will solar panels help us meet our net zero ambitions?

The move will encourage more people to install solar panels on their properties, slashing their energy bills in the process and cutting down on harmful emissions. "We must make sure our homes are fit for the future and can help us meet our net zero ambitions" said Housing and Planning Minister Lee Rowley MP.

How do I connect my solar panel system to the electrical grid?

To connect your solar panel system to the electrical grid and benefit from the Smart Export Guarantee (SEG), you will need to speak with your local District Network Operator (DNO). If your solar panel installation involves work on a shared or party wall, you may need to comply with the Party Wall Act.
