

Europe requires vast amounts of critical raw materials to fuel their green transition. The European Union has invested in several strategic projects to boost their domestic CRM supply while reducing dependencies on importing from ...

Serbian authorities' stance on eurointegration Serbian President Aleksandar Vucic acknowledged earlier that public support for EU membership has halved over the past two decades - from ...

Analysis Economic convergence, demography, labour markets: what progress have EU candidate countries made? Candidate countries remain far from European Union averages in terms of ...

While Serbia continues its EU accession path, its ongoing reliance on Russian-owned energy companies has drawn increasing scrutiny from Brussels. The renewal of the waiver--granted ...

Serbia's Minister for European Integration, Nemanja Starovic, strongly criticized the authorities in Pristina in an interview with the Austrian news agency APA over the arrest of Igor Popovic, Assistant Director of the Office for Kosovo and ...

Sustainability | Free Full-Text | Evaluating Plastic Waste Management in EU Accession Countries: A Life Cycle Perspective from the Republic of Serbia with Microplastic Implications | Notes

Serbia would be ready to support the European Union's anti-Russian sanctions if its membership in the bloc is on the horizon, Serbian Minister for European Integration Nemanja Starovic said.

The Council adopted today a new law to ease EU rules and thus boost EU competitiveness in the field of batteries. The main goal is to postpone by two years, until 18 August 2027, the date of ...

Independent since 2006, Montenegro continues to pursue a Euro-Atlantic foreign policy direction, although it remains within the sphere of Serbian political, economic, cultural, and media ...

Serbia will not impose sanctions against Russia, President Aleksandar Vucic said, responding to recent comments by Minister for European Affairs Nemanja Starovic that suggested otherwise, ...

On Friday in Belgrade, Serbia and the European Union signed a strategic partnership on sustainable raw materials, battery value chains and electric vehicles. The agreement came just days after the Serbian government ...

On July 25, Serbian Prime Minister Djuro Macut voiced the hope that by autumn Serbia would resume its

Serbian EU-accession batteries

European journey, which he said was "halted in 2021," adding that he believed that ...

With financial support from the European Union and Switzerland, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) is launching a Public Call for the scale-up of green investment projects as part of the project EU for the ...

Serbia would support imposing sanctions on Russia once the country's accession to the European Union is at hand, Serbian European Integration Minister Nemanja Starovic said in an interview published by Austria's APA on July 25. ...

Both EU and Serbian officials emphasize the goal of keeping lithium processing within Serbia to build a full industry--from raw material processing to battery components and electric vehicle ...

If Serbia does get this mine up and running - some estimates say it could be churning out 58,000 tonnes per year by 2028 - then it will be able to satisfy nearly a fifth of EU lithium demand for electric vehicle batteries.

Serbia would support imposing sanctions on Russia once the country's accession to the European Union is at hand, Serbian European Integration Minister Nemanja Starovic said in an interview ...

EU accession On the concrete decisions made during today's talks, Fidan recalled that six of the seven participating countries are EU membership candidates and said, "One of our common ...

Serbian EU-accession batteries

Web: <https://www.ekusenitours.co.za>