Are solar panels a scam?

With that demand comes fierce competition within the solar panel market. Scams, schemes and straight-up fraud abound in the dark underbelly of an otherwise light-filled industry. While there are still many honest and reliable solar panel companies on the market, it can be hard to differentiate the good guys from the rest.

Are 'free solar panel health checks' a scam?

We're regularly contacted by customers, who have received an unsolicited call or letter from another company, offering them a 'free solar panel health check' or warning about their solar PV system being at risk of failing. This is a common scam.

Are solar panels free?

We'll Install Your Solar Panels For Free! As the old saying goes, the best things in life are free. Naturally, if you were offered something cool and useful like solar panels for no cost, that would be very appealing. This is why it's a common tactic for solar panel companies to offer you installation and usage "completely free of charge."

Do you have to pay for electricity if you have solar panels?

The idea that you won't have to pay for electricity at all is one of the common solar panel myths, but it's a helpful boost to keep costs down and reduce fossil-fuel use. Still, there's a lot to know before installing solar panels on your home.

Is there a free lunch for solar panels?

Unfortunately, as another old saying goes, there's no such thing as a free lunch. Often, if a solar panel company is offering you solar panels "for free," what that really means is that they'll install the panels with no down payment. This still sounds nice on paper, until you start getting monthly usage bills nobody told you about.

Do you get bills for monthly down payments if you go solar?

But don't be surprised if you start getting bills for monthly down payments. The world of solar power can be far shadier than you think. If you plan to go solar, watch out for sneaky solar scams, which could cost you hundreds or thousands of dollars.
