What is a Windy Boy inverter?

1 Introduction The Windy Boy inverters make it possible to operate small wind turbines as grid-connected systems. Grid-connected means that the energy generated by the wind turbine can be fed directly into an existing house power grid, a stand-alone power system, or the mains supply.

What is a 'Windy Boy' system?

A commissioning procedure was developed by Wind & Sun with Yorkshire Electricity to address the concerns of their engineers and allow them to accept the wind turbine connection following the G77 grid connection guidelines. The new 'Windy Boy' system means that small-scale wind power is now a viable option for many more properties.

How does the Windy Boy work?

The Windy Boy converts the energy from the wind generator into grid conforming alternating current. And then it feeds this into a public utility grid or an autonomous stand-alone grid. Additionally the inverter is extraordinarily flexible: various device types cover the power range of 1,000 to 6,000 W.

What is the Windy Boy 1100lv?

The Windy Boy 1100LV is the perfect solution for the smallest wind energy systems with low generator voltage: turbines with a nominal voltage of 24 or 48 V can be connected without an additional voltage converter.

What is a Windy Boy 2500 and 3000?

The Windy Boy 2500 and 3000 are ideal for small wind energy plants: with more than 10,000 units, they are successfully in use worldwide. They feature a maximum efficiency of 95 %. The programmable polynomial curve enables an optimal adjustment to the characteristic curve of the turbine, which is also protected by a special smooth start device.

Is the Windy Boy 5000/6000 working?

The Windy Boy 5000 / 6000 has successfully passed the measurement electronics and SMA grid guard self-tests and has begun feed-in operation. The Windy Boy 5000 / 6000 is working normally and is feeding electricity into the mains supply.
